FROM THE CLERGY

Learning To Speak A New Language

I’ve been a little out of my comfort zone recently – in the best possible way. Working on a new initiative we’re calling a “Jobs Pipeline” with the Center for Urban Families (CFUF) and an incredible group of smart, passionate finance and business-oriented BHC folks, I realize how little I speak business-ese. I like to think that I’m conversant in a few other languages, among them Hebrew and French, but also inspiration-ese, meaning-ese, and of course, Torah-ese...but not business-ese.

Two years ago I learned about CFUF and in particular the STRIVE program, which gives men and women from some of Baltimore’s most disenfranchised communities the skills they will need to be successful in jobs. They learn to show up on time, speak and dress respectfully, and work through issues that have held them back in the past. When they graduate from STRIVE, they are connected to employers and supported, even after they gain employment.

So, when I called together a team to work on connecting BHC’s many business owners, employers and community-networked members to CFUF, I spoke the languages I know best. I spoke Torah-ese about how the Torah commands us 36 times to care about disenfranchised people (widow, orphan, stranger). I spoke inspiration-ese about how meaningfully the STRIVE program allows people to change their lives, to become contributing members of their community, our city and our world. As Joe Jones, CEO, has said, “We see how transformative it is when these individuals become the change-makers in their own families.” I spoke meaning-ese when I told the team that I am certain employers will find deep personal meaning when they give CFUF’s clients the chance to build their lives through honest hard work.

Then I sat back and listened to Sheldon Caplis, Stan Gann, Ryan Lenet, Henry Kahn, Phyllis Kolman, George Marcin, Andy Wayne, Peggy Wolf, Linda Nathan, Paul Foster, and Claire Landers, who knew that as much as inspiration is important, so is business-ese. They talked about the concerns a business might have about hiring people who had been incarcerated, the need for drug testing and vetting of candidates. They spoke business-ese about how expensive high employee turnover is and the impressively low turnover among STRIVE graduates. They said that business people would appreciate a workday breakfast at which Joe Jones, a STRIVE graduate, and an employer could share their stories. In speaking business-ese, they could communicate the message of mutual benefit to the important people in the congregation and community.

While I can’t speak in terms of cost-benefit analysis, I can say with confidence that this breakfast will inspire, create meaning, and help us all fulfill our Torah obligation to repair our fractured world.

If you are an employer or someone who can influence employers, please join us for breakfast on Tuesday, June 6, 8-9 AM, at BHC. RSVP: Sheldon Caplis, sheldon.caplis@gmail.com

HELP US GROW!

Great news for membership dues! BHC is a vibrant, diverse and active community and congregation, and we are excited to announce that we have restructured our dues for you. BHC is the only Reform synagogue in Baltimore to offer voluntary dues for first-year members of any age and for congregants under the age of 30.

Additionally, we have a special reduced membership dues offer for those families who have their oldest child in the E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center, and great offers for families who are enrolled in our Youth Education program.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT: STEVEN SHARFSTEIN

On Vision

A nine month intensive, interactive and participatory effort at visioning the future for Baltimore Hebrew Congregation’s facility and campus is coming to a close. With our consultants assembled and led by CHAI, an agency of The Associated, including planners Mahan Rykiel Associates and architects, Ziger/Snead, the visioning process began last August. Our consultants have given us their report, and the BHC Steering Committee, led by first Vice President Richard D. Gross, is reviewing the report and recommending options for the Board of Electors and the Congregation to consider: what we might do in the near term; what we can postpone for the longer term and especially what we can afford to do.

A word on the work to date: A prior effort called “Congregational Conversations” with over 60 congregants participating to find out what congregants enjoyed about BHC and what they would like to see change, and a day-long “Sacred Spaces Workshop” at BHC in October with 125 participants at BHC. In addition, there were 230 respondents to an online survey and questionnaire, focus groups in February, and then meetings of the consultants with the Steering Committee.

What have we learned from this process? We learned a great deal about the values of leaders and congregants at BHC. We learned not only about what we need to do but why we need to do it. We learned what we want for the future of our synagogue and our campus. What we want is a welcoming, inclusive and intergenerational community space that provides both formal services and informal opportunities for gathering together. We want relevant spiritual and cultural content in the context of the long-term sustainability of our Temple and our campus. We want our campus to connect with nature and have opportunities for outdoor worship. We want to serve the community through social action, a learning environment and volunteerism. We want our synagogue to be safe, accessible and cohesive.

Whatever we do to modernize, consolidate and upgrade our facility and campus in the future, it will be motivated by the above values.

ADULT B’NAI MITZVAH

We invite you to join us on Saturday, June 10, 10 AM as we come together to celebrate the achievements of Samantha Bernstein, Stanley Levin and Marci Messick as they become Adult B’nai Mitzvah. Over the past two years, they have mastered Hebrew, learned to chant prayers and Torah, and studied the meaning of those texts. It will be a proud moment for them, their friends and families, and for our BHC community as well.

Interested in becoming an Adult Bar/Bat Mitzvah? We are beginning a new, two-year-long class this fall. Cantor Sacks will teach BHC congregants in an Adult Beginner Hebrew class on Sunday mornings. This class is for adults with little or no Hebrew reading ability and will fulfill the beginner Hebrew requirement for the Adult Bar/Bat Mitzvah program. Take it as a stand-alone educational course or as the beginning of your journey to becoming an Adult Bar/Bat Mitzvah, where you will continue your exploration of Hebrew in your second year. INFO: Becky Gutin, bgutin@baltimorehebrew.org or 410-764-1587, ext. 250.

BHC Faces: Our Board and Staff

Marc Cohen

Hails from: Marc was born and raised in the Randallstown area of Baltimore. He became a Bar Mitzvah at Har Sinai Congregation before his family moved to Northern New Jersey when he was 13. During his junior year of high school, Marc moved back to Baltimore with his family. Later, Marc and his wife became members of Temple Emanuel, where they were married and their son Jared became a Bar Mitzvah. Jared was the last Bar Mitzvah at Temple Emanuel’s old building. In 2015 they became members of BHC, and are now preparing for their daughter Jenna to become a Bat Mitzvah at BHC next year.

Board Role: Marc was on the Board of Trustees at Temple Emanuel, and this past year, filled a spot on BHC’s Board of Electors.

Time at BHC: Marc and his family had dual membership with BHC and Temple Emanuel for one year, and have now been BHC members for almost two years.

Profession: Marc is the Principal of Seneca Valley High School in Montgomery County

Three Things to Know About Marc:

(1) Marc loves traveling. He has been to three continents and to numerous countries including Belgium, Germany, Thailand and Vietnam. Thus far, Thailand has been his favorite.

(2) Marc is very passionate about education policy. He has had the chance to participate on legislative panels related to the reauthorization of the laws governing public education and has done advocacy on a federal level. He has also been a consultant on culturally responsive teaching and leading.

(3) Any free time Marc has, he spends with his family. His son is involved in drama and choir, and his daughter is on a traveling soccer team. Marc and his wife are their kids’ number one fans at any event.

Jill Eisen

Hails from: Jill grew up in Harrisburg, PA. She attended Penn State where she received her BA in Advertising with minors in Classical Literature and Art. After Jill’s second trip to Israel, on Birthright, she decided her calling was to work in the Jewish community. While working at the JCC Harrisburg she met her husband while helping out at a JCC Baltimore singles event. When their relationship became serious she moved to Baltimore, where she has lived with her husband and son ever since. Jill received her Masters in Jewish Education and Jewish Communal Studies from Baltimore Hebrew University. She was the Director of Outreach and Assistant Director of Beth El Religious School before coming to BHC.

Staff Role: Director, E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center

Time at BHC: June marks Jill’s one year anniversary at BHC.

Three Things to Know About Jill:

(1) Jill is a huge Penn State fan. She remembers attending her first Penn State football game at the age of 12 and falling in love with the community vibe and immediately became immersed in it.

(2) Jill loves to knit and read. She plans to knit 12 scarves, a cable poncho and a lace shawl this year for the Jewish Volunteer Connection to go to the homeless, plus she has a goal to read 100 books.

(3) It is extremely fun to play baseball with her 6-year-old son, Benjamin. This is his first season playing on a Little League team, and at his first game, Jill coached second base.

The lively current-event discussions held in BHC’s courtyard are open to all. These free evenings are led by BHC’s rabbis, cantors and Director of Education and include light refreshments. No RSVP needed.

A CELEBRATION OF CANTOR SOLOMON’S MUSIC
In May, BHC celebrated Cantor Robbie and Helen Solomon at our Night of the Stars. As Cantor Solomon completes his nine-year tenure as BHC’s Cantor, we are honored to have him become our Cantor Emeritus. We know that his musical compositions will often grace our services, as they do in congregations around the country, even around the world. Before Cantor Solomon leaves, we will have a special celebration of his music. At the end of June, we will be sad to see them move to Boston, where they will be close to their grandchildren. We look forward to future visits.

Join us on Friday June 9, 7 PM at our Shabbat Evening Service as Cantor Solomon pulls out all the stops. Joined by a Kol Rinnah and professional choirs, a string quartet, a woodwind trio, piano, bass, and drums, Cantor Solomon will fill the sanctuary with some of the greatest hits from his original synagogue music. The evening will feature familiar and less familiar compositions by our talented and beloved cantor. It will be an evening of special music and spiritual uplift, and the icing on the cake will be a wonderful Oneg Shabbat to follow. Join us on what should be a truly memorable evening.

BHC WELCOMES INTERIM CANTOR SHARON KOHN
Help us welcome Interim Cantor Sharon R. Kohn (pronounced “kohn”), who will serve as our Interim Cantor from June 30, 2017 through June 30, 2018. Cantor Kohn comes to BHC with great and varied experience. She has served as the Cantor of both Congregation B’nai Jehudah in Overland Park, KS, and Isaac M. Wise Temple in Cincinnati, OH, among other congregations.

She taught at Reform Judaism’s Hebrew Union College, helping prepare future rabbis. For the last few years, she has served as the Director of Chesed/Pastoral Services at Congregation B’nai Jehudah.

Cantor Kohn says of her cantorate: “Through music, I transmit my love of Judaism. I share this passion even as I share the many sounds, past and present, of my tradition. The sanctuary, the classroom, the hospital room, and the stage are all venues for this communication.” We welcome our Interim Cantor on her first Shabbat with noshing and schmoozing following our Shabbat services on Friday, June 30 and Saturday, July 1.

KOL RINNAH
One of the great treasures we’ve had at BHC is the long-standing congregational choir, Kol Rinnah (The Sound of Joyful Singing). Indeed it is a joy to participate in, as well as to hear the choir, which rehearses on Monday nights most weeks and sings at services monthly and at special events outside the synagogue. Over the last decade, under the leadership of Cantor Solomon and Jimmy Galdieri, the choir has risen to new heights.

On Friday, June 9, 7 PM, Cantor Solomon, Jimmy Galdieri and Kol Rinnah will be joined by singers from our professional choir and instrumentalists to present many of Cantor Solomon’s synagogue compositions. To learn how to join Kol Rinnah, contact Becky Gutin, bgutin@baltimorehebrew.org.
BHC’S YOUTH THANKS YOU!

BHC thanks all who made our 7th annual Night of the Stars, honoring BHC’s own Cantor Robbie and Helen Solomon, a rousing success! The Dresher Theater was filled with laughter. We couldn’t have done it without you. Your generosity will help support our youth community including the E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center and Youth Education. It will also have a significant impact in our efforts to provide the best in Jewish educational opportunities to our youth so they will continue to grow up with a strong Jewish identity. We hope you enjoyed “THE BEST OF The Second City” and will return next year to enjoy our 8th annual Night of the Stars.

THANK YOU TO ALL!

E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center

MANY THANKS FOR OUR TRAINING
Early childhood educators are required to be certified in a variety of areas; some you would expect: child development, hands-on activities and expertise in play. Then there are the areas you wouldn’t initially think about, but then you think, of course: communication skills, CPR and first aid, classroom management, and observation and evaluation techniques. Then there are the unexpected areas, such as American Disabilities Act and Medical Administration. We are required to take 24 hours of core of knowledge classes every year. Core of knowledge is defined as theories and practices that are essential for individuals working with children in early childhood centers. There are six major areas: child development, curriculum, professionalism, special needs, community and health, and safety and nutrition. Most of the time our faculty is expected to pay out-of-pocket for their training, but sometimes a benefactor comes to the rescue.

We are grateful to Lois Rosenfield, who generously donated the funds from the Lois Rosenfield Caring Fund to pay for 20 E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center educators to be trained in Medical Administration. A specially trained registered nurse came to BHC to lead the 6-hour training over two evenings. Handling medication in an early childhood setting is not cut and dry. A parent must sign a consent form and bring in a doctor's note with the medication in its original container from the pharmacist. The medication must stay in our care until all the doses prescribed during center hours have been administered. Medicine may not travel back and forth between home and the center. We learned how to handle asthma attacks, allergic reactions and seizures, and we have a plan to work with each of our students who may suffer from these issues.

We thank the Lois Rosenfield Caring Fund, which will also generously pay for the BHC and E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center staff CPR and First Aid training later this summer.

Jill Eisen
Director, E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center

Youth Education

A NEW APPROACH TO 8TH-12TH GRADE EDUCATION AT BHC
In July we will embark on a journey with our 8th-12th grade families. NEXTGEN: The Millie and Alvin Blum 8th-12th Grade Teen Program at BHC is the next evolution in Jewish teen education. This unique opportunity opens doors for our teens to engage in their Jewish Life intentionally. We have set forth an ambitious menu of choices, classes, trips, and Jewish immersion experiences that will fuel the next generation at BHC. Our teens will have the opportunity and the responsibility to pick their own schedule, navigate their Judaism and take ownership of their post B’nai Mitzvah life.

Our goal is to provide many opportunities for our teens to engage in Judaism including honoring them for participating in community-wide Jewish teen programs. We aim to build on our success of our past year to continue to find ways to reach our teens.

Register: https://goo.gl/rQHq4d INFO: Brad Cohen, Director of Education, 410-764-1587, ext. 290 or bcohen@baltimorehebrew.org or Lauren Offermann, Assistant Director of Education, 410-764-1587, ext. 248 or loffermann@baltimorehebrew.org.

SUMMER FOR YOUR FAMILY AT BHC
Hello BHC Youth Families, summer is here and planning has begun! This upcoming year will be filled with new and engaging opportunities for BHC Youth. In addition, I am finding new ways to provide leadership opportunities for teens.

This summer, I am looking forward to spending Shabbat outside with friends and family. What does your family do for Shabbat over the summer? Will you enjoy a family Shabbat picnic? Or maybe volunteer together? Whatever you choose to do, I hope you enjoy the sweet summer air, longer nights, and more time together!

Are you a teen looking for a volunteer opportunity this summer? BHC is hosting Paul’s Place Camp. Paul’s Place is an amazing organization, with over 30 programs serving low income families in the area. This camp accepts 40 kids (K-5th grade) for an eight-week experience. The camp is hosted by a different organization each week, and BHC has been lucky enough to become a part of their rotation, Monday-Friday, July 17-21. This will be our second year hosting the camp, and we are looking for passionate and energized teens to volunteer for the week. This is a great opportunity for your teens to get community service hours, gain invaluable experiences and deepen relationships with their peers. Lunch is provided each day.

Chai Life: 20s & 30s Community

GET EXCITED FOR OUR SUMMER LINEUP

Summer is upon us and with it comes some great events hosted by your Chai Life team.

We open the month with our traditional Chai Life Shabbat at BHC on Friday, June 2. Services begin at 6:15 pm, and we welcome you to stay for a Mediterranean dinner at 7 pm, catered by Cilantro. Chai Life will end the month with a day full of fun; playing mini golf at Mitchell’s Golf Complex on Sunday, June 25, 1-3 pm, with lunch to follow.

After two years of dedication we say farewell to our co-chair Steve DeBois. During his time with Chai Life, Steve has shared his ideas, giving us new events, new committee members and a new direction for Chai Life. As he steps down, a new person arises. We would like to welcome Andrew Haines to his new position of Chai Life co-chair. With Andrew and David at the helm, we look forward to a prosperous future. As always, please feel free to reach out to your Chai Life Co-Chairs David, dcstine9@gmail.com and Andrew, andrewhaines2@gmail.com if you have any questions or there are events you would like to see take place.

“UNENCUMBERED”
Recent Works by Art10Baltimore
Exhibit through June 28

Artists’ Statement by the Group, Art10Baltimore: “Art10Baltimore is a professional group of artists who have painted together for more than 10 years. While the work of the group as a whole could be described as expressionistic and evocative, each artist employs a unique blend of color, creativity, and composition. ‘Unencumbered’ refers to our attempts to tap into our individual artistic sensibility. We try to push beyond what we see in front of us to create a new work of art. As we try to free ourselves from preconceived notions and interpret the world around us -- through color, line and form -- the outcome for each of us is different. As we create a painting, we approach our work Unencumbered.”
