Throughout the COVID-19 Health Emergency, BHC is trying to serve and support our congregants and families on many levels. We hope that you stay in communication with your congregation. Please take advantage of the various offerings, including the continuation, through streaming, of BHC’s worship services. We are thankful for all those who serve and volunteer through BHC. For now, we do this via phone and computer. In the near future, we look forward to doing this in full person as well. Please allow me to continue with the well-deserved original column I wrote for this bulletin.

AN OPEN LETTER TO RICHARD GROSS

Baltimore Hebrew Congregation is blessed with two wonderful congregants named Richard Gross; their wives even have overlapping names. This month, I write to Richard D. Gross, BHC’s President for the past two years:

Richard, on behalf of the congregation, please allow me to express our deep appreciation for your passion, your commitment and your insights during your term. We are a stronger community for your leadership, drawing upon your menschlikeit, your calm and your wisdom. We hope that you found serving as a congregational president to be meaningful and rewarding as well.

Richard grew up active in his synagogue in Buffalo, NY. He married into a Baltimore Hebrew Congregation family with deep roots. Richard’s tenure as a BHC leader included his leadership of our Tikkun Torah restoration campaign several years ago. He has attended Union for Reform Judaism biennial conventions and the URJ’s Scheidt Seminar for Presidents. Richard’s approach to being BHC’s president has mirrored his approach to life. He is an excellent listener, is calm and patient, and is deeply interested in the congregation’s life (in front of and behind the scenes). He loves meeting congregants and sharing his pride in being part of our historic and dynamic congregation.

In his 2019 Rosh Hashanah remarks, Richard spoke of the support and caring that BHC can provide individuals and families. He described how deeply meaningful those interactions were for everyone involved. Several weeks later, a younger BHC member expressed to me that she wanted to become more involved in congregation life and leadership, due in part to Richard’s sincerity and passion. Through his leadership, Richard Gross has exemplified all BHC can be as we read and restore Torah, gather for holidays and Shabbatot, and assemble for meetings and planning.

John Elias, coincidentally Richard’s friend, becomes BHC’s President on Friday, April 17. Thanks in part to Richard’s presidency, John inherits a congregational culture eager to continue to thrive. Richard, we look forward to your continued impact on the congregation and thank you for all you have given us already.

– Rabbi Busch

ANNUAL MEETING, NEW LEADERS, AND VOLUNTEERS

BHC will hold our Annual Meeting virtually this year on Friday, April 17 at 5 pm via Zoom. Voting details have been worked out and emailed to members. You can vote in advance via proxy or during the Zoom meeting. However, please know that we still celebrate all the accomplishments of the last year. We look forward to welcoming new Officers and Board of Electors members. Additionally, this year, we were going to celebrate all the many volunteers across the wide range of our congregational offerings. We look forward to honoring them in the future. Finally, as BHC celebrates its 190th year, may we continue our tradition of celebrating and serving together.
FINAL WORDS

We are all facing the stress and anxiety that the coronavirus has placed on our community, congregants and families. The global pandemic is causing the world to change on a daily, sometimes hourly, basis. BHC’s clergy and staff remain available for ongoing support and spiritual guidance. I remain thankful to have worked as closely with them as I have over the past two years, and with all our wonderful volunteers as well. We will continue to offer religious services, education and counseling. We continue via streaming:

• Shabbat services and Torah Talk
• Youth education and Next Gen opportunities
• Daily Adult education

Our clergy and lay leaders are collaborating daily with many partners, including health experts, state and local leaders, and other faith leaders to discuss current practices and potential procedures going forward. They are also reaching out by phone to individual congregants who may need extra support. If you would like to speak to one of the clergy or know someone in need, please do not hesitate to email Jo Ann Windman, Executive Director, jwindman@baltimorehebrew.org. Jo Ann will make sure the appropriate person responds and that your information is held confidential. We are well aware that these extraordinary circumstances will apply over weeks and could extend even longer. We will continue to keep you updated.

BHC’s finances are in good shape thanks to donations, dues and sound management by staff and lay leaders. However, our need to support our staff, especially the teachers in the E. B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center, will certainly challenge us. We are considering multiple things in this time of need: the financial realities of our families, of our employees, and of BHC. We need to think about these things in the short term, but also for the longer term. Please consider a donation to ensure that in this growing time of community needs we can help anyone in need.

I have been honored to be mentored by Steve Sharfstein, our wonderful immediate past president and for the advice of so many of our past presidents. I am thrilled to turn over the reigns to my friend, John Elias, whose commitment to BHC is crucial at this time. I look forward to continuing to be involved in BHC, naturally. It has been a privilege and pleasure to serve as the lay leader of this 190-year-old institution.

Please take care of yourselves. We are a strong community, and together, we will get through this unprecedented disruption.

– Richard D. Gross
BHC President

BHC’S VIRTUAL COMMUNITY

Our congregation has mobilized itself to continue to connect us virtually, as a community and to our Judaism. Please see the regular emails and baltimorehebrew.org for information, updates and creative offerings.

Our education programs are being carried out via Zoom, which is an app worth downloading and works beautifully on your computer. It works best with a camera and a microphone, but can be utilized without them.

Our services are being offered via online streaming, and are also archived for later viewing. Visit https://venue.streamspot.com/de50dfb8 to follow along.

We encourage you also to follow the Baltimore Hebrew Congregation page on Facebook, where we communicate ideas and resources for the congregation.

NEED ASSISTANCE?

BHC's clergy, staff and volunteers want to be able to support you if you face specific challenges during this Health Emergency. If you are officially quarantined or diagnosed as infected, please notify Jo Ann Windman, jwindman@baltimorehebrew.org. Jo Ann will make sure the appropriate person responds, even as BHC will hold your information confidential.

ADULT EDUCATION

Spending this extra time at home may just open up your desire to dive into Jewish learning. During this Health Emergency, BHC is offering a range of Adult Education online, via Zoom. Specifically, we are offering:

Rabbi Busch, Rabbi Sachs-Kohen, Cantor Ellerin, Rabbi Buchdahl, Brad Cohen, Director of Education and Cantorial Intern Mann are enjoying teaching online, with lots of interaction.

NIGHT OF THE STARS

UPDATES:

Baltimore Hebrew Congregation was looking forward to a fantastic Night of the Stars 2020, which would support our Youth Education programs and the E. B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center. Unfortunately, the current Health Emergency requires us to transform our festive evening into a beautiful digital release which will include gratitude for our donors, sponsors, ticket holders and other supporters.

It is our sincere hope that you, Night of the Stars supporters, will continue your support by allowing your donations, sponsorships, and ticket purchases to become donations. We intend to continue supporting, for as long as we can, the faculty of the E. B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center and Youth Education while also relieving families of the tuition burden while their children are not attending.

Your willingness to support what will now be an online release will make a huge difference in our ability to support the faculty and thus ensure the future stability and success of the programs. We are working with Kevin Pollak to bring him to BHC on May 6, 2021 as entertainment for our next regular Night of the Stars.

Please contact Annette Saxon, asaxon@baltimorehebrew.org, Director of Development, to confirm your willingness to continue to support BHC’s Youth Education and E. B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center in this unforeseen time.

Passover and Young Children

Now that Purim has passed and we are moving into spring, the children are busy preparing for Passover. They will be learning about the holiday by reading books, creating art, singing songs, using props and cooking.

During the Passover Seder we read in the Haggadah about four sons. There is the wise son, the rebellious son, the simple son and the one who does not even know how to ask a question. Does it mean that the simple son or the one who does not even know how to ask a question should not be given the opportunity to learn? No. This section of the Haggadah recognizes that each child has a specific style of learning. We know from research that there is a substantial amount of brain development from birth to age five. Our talented teachers use developmentally appropriate teaching methods to inspire and engage the children in their classes.

The E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center teachers are dedicated to making sure all our children are given the opportunity to meet and exceed our expectations. During this Health Emergency, our teachers have regularly scheduled Zoom storytime and classroom playdates. The children have enjoyed virtually interacting with each other.

EVERLASTING REMEMBRANCE PACKAGES:
Includes memorial book and seat plaque

Pay tribute to those who blessed us in life and continue to bless us through memory.
Yahrzeit literally means “year’s time” or anniversary. By the recitation of Kaddish at the time of Yahrzeit, we pay tribute to those who blessed us in life and continue to bless us through memory.

Our Congregation makes it possible to establish, in this spirit, memorials for everlasting remembrance. A page in the Book of Memorial, or in combination with a Sanctuary Seat Plaque, may be dedicated as a memorial to your loved one.

If you would like to participate, Francie Gill is available to discuss the options with you, 410-764-1587, ext. 226 or fgill@baltimorehebrew.org.

All April Events will be hosted virtually. See below for details on StreamSpot or Zoom venue.
