For Visiting the Cemetery During the High Holy Days.

However we gathered

Take a Peek Inside . . .
Just before we listened to Cantor Ellerin chant the powerfully moving Kol Nidre – this year from our computers, iPads or even cell phones rather than our seats in the sanctuary – we heard the words of the preliminary paragraph. In our prayer book the poetic translation is:

With one voice, assembled Sages past and present declare:
All may pray as one on this night of repentance;
Let none be excluded from our community of prayer.

With one voice, God and this congregation proclaim:
All may pray as one on this day of return;
Let all find a place in this sacred assembly.

A more traditional translation of the second paragraph would be:

With the consent of the Omnipresent One (Al da’at hamakom)
And with the consent of this congregation (V’al da’at hakahal)...

Interestingly the word translated to consent is da’at, which would normally be rendered ‘knowledge’ or ‘wisdom.’ In this context it suggests that God knows we’ve transgressed and the community knows too, so it’s with consent that we come together to pray on Yom Kippur.

As I ponder these words, now, a year out from next Yom Kippur, I wonder if the da’at we need isn’t simple awareness that we’re all likely to transgress but some other kind of wisdom as well – knowledge from/of/about the Eternal or eternal questions, perhaps, and knowledge from/of/about the congregation or community. I wonder if a deep engagement with Jewish learning might not help us to find footing in the precarious world we’re trying to inhabit.

To that end, two suggestions – 1) spend some time in the zoomisphere with your teachers at BHC. Fill Your Cup during the week or give yourself some Sunday morning PEP as we explore a variety of Jewish topics and 2) Check out the wonderful resources at www.Sefaria.com. It makes incredibly accessible the da’at, (knowledge) of eternal questions, and even the Eternal, in the form of classic Jewish texts, translated and linked to commentaries. And it makes accessible the da’at, (knowledge) of the community of teachers and learners throughout the world. On the website you can search for topics, a specific teacher or a text. You can learn a Talmud page each day or explore the Torah portion for the week. There is so much da’at and just too little time.

I hope that next year when we gather (hopefully in person) for Yom Kippur, we will be blessed by the da’at of the Eternal and the newly deepened da’at of the congregation.

– Rabbi Sachs-Kohen
L’SHANA TOVA!

BHC has a 190-year history of giving and taking care of our congregational community, as well as the greater community around us. We have done this through our own religious education programs, which include the very young through adult programs. Our outreach programs to the Baltimore Jewish community include involvement in social action and helping to feed the needy among us. We give generously to Annual Giving and Night of the Stars to enable our rich and broad programs to thrive. For more opportunities to participate, see our website and look for the BHC Cares tab.

Our successful pivoting to providing all of our congregational services in the virtual world in a seamless way has been nothing short of extraordinary. For this we must thank our Rabbis Busch and Sachs-Kohen, Cantor Ellerin, Becky Mann and all of the staff at BHC.

Though all of our lives have been altered by the Covid-19 pandemic, it is just beginning to look like next year may bring us some return to a normal existence. We have taken the step to re-open our E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center under the direction of our Director Jen Platt and our chair of E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center’s re-entry committee, Laurie Duhan.

Our Youth Education Director, Rachel Opatowsky, and her staff have begun the fall semester and have a full array of classes on the internet for our children.

This congregation has survived the Civil War, two World Wars, the Great Depression and now this pandemic. Our strength is our members and their long history of meeting every challenge throughout the years, and now we must turn our attention to growing our membership.

Our leadership believes that we need to enlarge our tent and that young families and singles will lead us. David Castine, our Treasurer, Jillian Manko, Director of Engagement and Brian Rogers, Director of Communication have begun this hard work by forming “The Crowd.”

In times such as these, those who can give more are needed to do so to help one another through to a better time for us all. Our Annual Giving Committee will be reaching out to you, and we are asking those who can afford to increase their giving to please consider doing so.

BHC is the primary structure of our Jewish life. Our building is a place of prayer, learning, gathering and sharing. Our clergy and teachers provide the history and context for our children to carry on our rich traditions. We need your involvement and your financial support to move our congregation forward into the New Year.

May the New Year be a healthy, happy, peaceful one for you and your families.

L’Shana Tova

BHC President
BHC’s 2020 High Holy Days were experienced largely online, but they were not virtual. As a community, we have learned how to connect via streaming and zoom. We touched base picking up prayerbooks and hearing the shofar in parks. We look forward to future years in-person, but we have welcomed 5781 in a meaningful and fitting manner.

THANKS:
To all who attended our virtual services this year wherever you were. To all that took part in the many offerings including: prayer book reservations, Ark visits, Elul Project, Shofar Around Town, the GEDCO Food Drive, a community-wide Selichot, youth & adult education, family activities and your own cemetery visits.

HIGH HOLY DAY BOOK RETURN + GEDCO FOOD DRIVE
Thursday October 1, 5 PM & Sunday October 4, 5 PM
For those who reserved prayer books, these are the two planned dates for their return. Brotherhood will be in the BHC parking lot collecting the prayer books along with your donations of non-perishable food for GEDCO. For more information visit baltimorehebrew.org/highholycays2020/food-drive.

BHC’S SUKKAH
Sukkot reminds us of both our fragility and our connection. BHC will hold Sukkot events both on Zoom, but also in-person at BHC’s Sukkah, with limited capacity. Look in this bulletin and online to see the in-person items. Preregistration is required for all in-person Sukkot events, be they adult, youth, or Next Gen. BHC’s Sukkah is set up in a new location, next to the chapel. This location, our experiment with small in-person events, and our Zoom Sukkot celebrations are all signs of 2020 and its necessary creativity.

Please only register for a single event to allow others a chance to participate. You can sign up at: https://www.signupgenius.com/go/10c0d4cafa82ba7fccc8-bhcsukkot.

\(^a\) These events are being offered in-person at BHC’s Sukkah and via Zoom.
TORAH TALK: via Zoom
Saturdays, October 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31, 9 AM
Each Saturday, we gather for a discussion of the weekly Torah portion. Our conversation takes place on Zoom and is led by Rabbis Busch and Sachs-Kohen, with occasional guest teachers. No prior experience, Hebrew, or preparation is required. Just join us with an open mind and a willingness to explore Torah and its connections to our lives.
Zoom Link: Provided in Briefly BHC and Monday emails.

PEP: PURSUING EDUCATIONAL POSSIBILITIES: via Zoom
Sunday mornings, October 11, 18, 25 and November 1, 15, 22
PEP is a chance for adults to study together on select Sunday mornings in a casual and friendly Zoom setting. The Fall 2020 offerings October 11, 18, 25 and November 1, 15, 22 are below:

9:30-10:30 AM: Exploring Documents of American Jewish History: taught by Rabbi Busch
Together, we will read key letters, speeches and other documents to better understand key events and trends across American Jewish history. Read, question, and explore the documents, the individuals, and the events.

10:45-11:45 AM: Becoming Wise: An Inquiry into the Mystery and Art of Living by Krista Tippett: taught by Rabbi Sachs-Kohen
We will discuss excerpts from the book described this way by its publisher: In Becoming Wise, Krista Tippett has created a master class in living for a fractured world. Fracture, she says, is not the whole story of our time. The enduring question of what it means to be human has become inextricable from the challenge of who we are to one another. She insists on the possibility of personal depth and common life for this century, nurtured by science and “spiritual technologies” with civility and love as a muscular public practice.

To be included in the PEP email list, contact Ruth Spivak, spivakcpa@verizon.net.

CREDIT CARD USAGE
Effective NOW, credit cards will be accepted as payment for all BHC dues and fees with the exception of tuition for the E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center. You will no longer have the option to “opt out” of paying the service fee. This fee will be applied to your credit card.

BHC 2020 BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE
Instead of a printed book this year, we have made available a beautiful digital version that is easy to navigate and will allow you to search by name in the upper right of the page. To view this year’s Book of Remembrance visit our website or: http://badges-buttons.com/BHC_BOR_2020/

All details for the above events will be shared in Monday and Thursday (Briefly) emails as well as on our website. (https://www.baltimorehebrew.org/about/virtual-schedule/).

1. All prices, events and times published in the Bulletin are current at the time of publication, but are subject to change.
2. Publication of an advertisement in the Bulletin is neither an endorsement nor recommendation of any advertisers’ products or services by BHC.
3. Due to the lead time for printing this publication many of the programs, meetings and events may be postponed or switched to Video Streaming, Zoom or another online program. Be sure to check BHCs Website for updated information or call 410-764-1587.
YOUTH EDUCATION

See online or email for links to Youth Education events.

BHC B’BAYIT

Youth Education has gone virtual, and we are enjoying our time together on Sunday mornings as a community. Make sure to tune in to Morning Shema every Sunday via Zoom to hear a story told by guest speakers, including Rabbi Busch, Rabbi Sachs-Kohen, Cantor Ellerin, Cantorial Intern Becky Mann and others. We have implemented themed days for our children to express themselves in unique ways. On Sunday, October 18 we invite all students to come dressed as their favorite superhero. We hope our themed days help bring joy and excitement to online learning.

POP-UP EVENTS

Our first Pop-Up event is for the holiday of Sukkot. On Tuesday, October 6, families come together in person in the BHC parking lot to decorate the congregational Sukkah. We will shake the lulav and etrog, create a festive craft and celebrate the holiday of Sukkot together in person. Registration, masks, and temperature checks are required. Spots are limited, and first come, first served. INFO: Rachel Opatowsky, ropatowsky@baltimorehebrew.org.

FAMILY EDUCATION BOXES

Did you know that BHC is offering Family Education Boxes for those who would like to partake in learning as a family at home? Our first unit focuses on Sukkat Shalom (a shelter of peace) and takes place over the month of October. Families receive all the materials needed to participate in the lessons at home. There are check-ins with facilitator, Margaret Presley Stein. If you would like more information about the Family Education Boxes or if you are interested in taking part of the next round, contact Rachel, ropatowsky@baltimorehebrew.org.

BHC CARES

BHC Cares offers a large menu of educational programs and speakers on a variety of topics. We offer pertinent information when possible. In early September we were made aware of an online conference on “Accessible Futures -Intersecting Futerity and Disability.” It was broadcast on Facebook. It was the inaugural late Millie Blum Conference held at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem initiated by her son, our congregant, Jim Blum.

The four-day conference was dedicated to the question of how to make the future accessible to people with disabilities. Under this framework they discussed key issues like technology, disabilities policy, and digital media. It aims to advance research, teaching, and services to individuals with disabilities.

Thanks to our wonderful BHC Cares volunteer team – Marcia Bornfriend, Jane Theodore, Phyllis Lederman and Marc Lederman – we were able to deliver Baltimore Hebrew Congregation masks, in small packages with a card attached, to our congregants at North Oaks, Edenwald, and Roland Park Place.

For information, suggestions, or to volunteer, contact carolcjca@comcast.net, 410-764-1587 ext, 270. Remember your volunteering experience is to share and to find ways to give back.
If you ask me why Jewish Early Childhood Education is so important, I would give a three-word answer: Sadie and Ari. Who are Sadie and Ari? They are 2-year-old children in our Turtle classroom who are the best of friends and inseparable. You see, Sadie is white and Ari is black, but to each other they are just best friends, just Sadie and Ari. Both girls have wonderful families who believe in friendship, caring and compassion for all people. The E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center is a microcosm of society, except our children behave and follow directions better than most adults. Our student population and faculty are diverse. We are fortunate to be affiliated with Baltimore Hebrew Congregation, with its mission of “creating a progressive, dynamic and diverse congregation filled with meaningful experiences and relationships.” Early Childhood Education by nature is about forming and maintaining positive relationships. Our teachers form meaningful relationships with one another; our families form relationships with other families and with the faculty and staff; the teachers form meaningful and nurturing relationships with all the children in our school. Finally, our young children form relationships with one another. Our school relationships were tested by a pandemic, but we stood strong because we knew we would be back at our “happy place.”

On Monday, August 24, we were back together and stronger than ever. There were many nervous teachers and parents, but the resiliency of the children calmed us. We were anticipating many sad children who had been with their parents for the last five months, children who would never wear their mask and keep physically distant. Yes, there were some tears during the first couple of mornings because parents are not permitted in the building, and there are children who need to practice wearing a mask. Once in the building, the children acted as if they were only away for five days and not five months. The relationships and friendships continue to be as strong as ever. Every Friday we have Kabbalat Shabbat in the classrooms instead of the chapel and challah for morning snack. For Rosh Hashana the children spent time wishing everyone a L'Shanah Tova and at Yom Kippur the children learned about the importance of saying “I am sorry.”

Those tears at drop-off have disappeared, and the children have to be reminded to say “goodbye” to mom and dad before they dash into the building. As the children walk down the hallway to the classroom with their teachers, you hear little voices asking if their friends are here today. As a Director, there is nothing better than hearing the laughter of children and seeing friendships continue and new friendships develop.

Just as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Rabbi Josuha Abraham Heschel developed a special friendship, so have Sadie and Ari; it has nothing to do with the color of their skin but rather two children who enjoy playing together. My hope for all the children at the E.B. Hirsh Early Childhood Center is to have that special relationship that stands the test of time and a special relationship and connection to Baltimore Hebrew Congregation for years to come.

LEARNING, UNLEARNING & WIDENING OUR VIEW OF COMMUNITY

The Baltimore Jewish Council (BJC) has invited the whole Baltimore-area Jewish community to explore racial justice together for 18 days, kicking off on Wednesday October 14. If you accept the invitation (by filling out the form at Baltjc.org/18Days), you will receive an email a day for 18 days. Each day you’ll be directed to a video or article, and asked to reflect on what you learned or discuss it with an accountability partner or group.

I’m honored to say BJC is trusting me (and my co-conspirator, Yosef Webb-Cohen) to curate and facilitate this community-wide program (including several live events via Zoom). Yosef, a Jew of color himself, will be facilitating affinity spaces for Jews of color and people of color who are connected to the Jewish community through family or profession.

Additionally, Chizuk Amuno Congregation and the Jewish Museum of Maryland are planning a multi-part series, Jews of Color, Jewish Institutions, and Jewish Community in the Age of #BlackLivesMatter, that examines and highlights the multi-racial and multi-ethnic diversity of the Jewish community.

The series kicks off on Sunday October 18 and continues into 2021. You can learn more and register for one or more of these free sessions here: tinyurl.com/HearingOurVoices.

ANNUAL GIVING

ANNUAL GIVING TAX TIP

Here’s a tax tip you might find helpful to reduce your taxes this year when making a commitment to BHC’s Annual Giving Campaign.

Increasingly, more and more of our congregants are making their charitable gifts by donating stock that has appreciated in value rather than writing a check.

It makes smart tax sense to consider making your charitable gifts through stock gifts instead of writing a check. You get a charitable tax deduction for the Fair Market Value of the stock as of the date of transfer to Baltimore Hebrew Congregation. Generally, there is no tax on the capital gain when donating appreciated stock. Consult with your tax advisor to determine if donating appreciated securities to BHC is beneficial to your tax situation.

Annette Saxon
Director of Development

TOP 10 REASONS TO SUPPORT ANNUAL GIVING

#10: BHC continually creates programs that provide new opportunities to worship, learn, and celebrate Judaism in a warm, embracing community. This year BHC has taken its programming virtual, which is offers the opportunity for even more congregants to participate and learn.

#9: Our top-quality offerings are expensive. Membership dues provide less than half the revenue needed to sustain our many worship, education and social action activities. For example, Rosh Hashanah Under the Stars is open to the public without charge. This year, due to Covid-19, we have reimagined the event as Rosh Hashanah Under Your Stars, which was a virtual service incurring different expenses such as audio visual and bags for attendees that contain items that enhanced the experience.

#8: We need to attract and retain wise, talented, and caring clergy and lay leaders.

#7: Our beautiful building and physical plant are aging in place and need more frequent repairs and upgrades. We are committed to the environment and save $2,000 per month by investing in energy-saving equipment including LED illumination and comprehensive HVAC and light scheduling.

#6: We offer membership and educational scholarship support to community members who would otherwise be unable to join us because of financial hardship.

#5: We offer voluntary dues for young congregants and eligible first-year members.

#4: During these uncertain times, we are still offering high quality education programs to our Youth Community to help ensure that they grow up with a strong Jewish identity.

#3: You can pledge now and fulfill your obligation any time until June 2021.

#2: If you fulfill your pledge by December 31, 2020, the amount is deductible on your 2020 income tax return.

And, the #1 reason why you should make a pledge to Annual Giving: Giving from the heart feels so good!

Show your commitment to sustaining our caring community and meaningful Jewish activities. Please make a pledge today!
THE WOMEN OF BHC

WBHC Welcomes You!
Thank you to all those women who have paid their dues and are supporting our women’s group to date. We look forward to your participation.

WBHC Welcomes You! We hope many more of you will choose to join us this year. Be sure you designate to pay WBHC dues on your congregation bill.

WBHC Welcomes You! Join one of our five Task Forces below to assess our long-term programs and decide on our future activities by emailing hhwaranch@gmail.com.
1. Assessment/Membership to survey women of the congregation and implement a membership campaign
2. Communications/PR to determine the best ways to reach the members: branding, new website, social media, email and print
3. Community Initiatives to find projects in which members can participate to make a difference
4. Fundraising to explore and select the most feasible options to financially support our programs and congregations
5. Judaica Shop to recommend additional vendors and expand marketing efforts

WBHC Welcomes You! Connect to our “Fill Your Cup” programs every Wednesday at 1:30 pm on Zoom. For a schedule of our offerings see page 15.

WBHC Welcomes You! Attend our opening meeting on Tuesday, October 13, at 7 pm on zoom by emailing womenofbhc@gmail.com. Look for an announcement coming soon.
